SYSTEM OF INSTRUCTION

THE CASE SYSTEM IS FOLLOWED

The School in the beginning used the text-book method of instruction, but, after one year, abandoned this method in favor of the case system, which has been used ever since in the School with constantly increasing success. Under this system, carefully selected collections of cases are used as the basis of instruction, and certain of these cases are assigned each day for study. The students who have studied these cases are required to state the facts of each case, the decision reached therein by the court, and the reasons for that decision. The class and the instructor then discuss the decision, and consider whether the given case was rightly decided, and, if so, what principles of law it establishes. The instructor then requires the class to apply these principles to new and different sets of facts, and thus gives the students practice in the art of applying law to varying conditions of fact.

The main objects, then, of the case system of instruction are to teach the student to deduce legal principles from reported cases, and also to teach him to apply these principles to other cases, and thus to develop in him the power of legal reasoning through the use of the actual decisions of the courts. By this method the student learns from the very beginning to do the kind of work which every lawyer must do in actual practice, and thus receives the very best preparation for actual work at the bar. The following are some of the chief advantages of the case system:

1. The case system begins the study of the law with actual reported cases decided in the courts. The bulk of our system of law falls into two main subdivisions. (1) Law which is to be found in the decisions of the courts. (2) Law which is created by statutes. Even a statute, however, can rarely be understood without referring to decided cases; for a statute is frequently nothing but a codification of a rule of law previously established by such decided cases. Moreover, even where the statute creates a wholly new rule of law, it frequently has questions arising as to its meaning and effect, and the answer to these questions cannot be found save in the reported cases which have decided them. Indeed, it may be asserted that nothing is law unless the courts recognize and enforce it as such in the cases which they decide. It therefore follows that such cases are the final and authoritative sources to which we must look to find the law.

Every case decided by the highest court of any jurisdiction settles the law for that jurisdiction on the point involved in that case. Such a case becomes a precedent which the lower courts of that jurisdiction are bound to follow, and cases establishing such precedents are but rarely overruled by the higher courts which decided them. A decision therefore (not overruled) of the highest court of any jurisdiction on any question is the law of that jurisdiction. A text-book, on the other hand, is usually a brief restatement of the principles of law which the author of the text-book believes to have been established by such decisions. A decided case has authority in a law court; a text-book has no authority whatsoever as law, but is ordinarily used merely as a means of finding the names of certain cases bearing on some point of law, or at most the views of the author as to the soundness of such cases, it being well understood that courts and lawyers must go to the cases themselves to find out what the law actually is.

Under the case system, therefore, the student has the great advantage of learning the law at first-hand, a thing which he can never do from any text-book.

2. The case system stimulates the power of the student to investigate and reason, instead of tending to make him rely upon mere memory, which is the tendency where a text-book is used.

3. The case system gives the student from the very start practice in reading and analyzing cases, an art which is absolutely indispensable to the practicing lawyer, and which the student is not likely to acquire under the text-book system until after he enters the bar. On this point, a distinguished lawyer who, though trained under the text-book system, adopted the case system after he became a teacher of the law, told his pupils that the case system taught the students to do work in the law school which those who were trained under the old system were obliged to learn to do after they became practitioners.

4. The case system is a far more interesting system of instruction, both to student and teacher, than the text-book system. This is because the case system does not deal with mere abstract principles, but teaches these principles in a vivid and realistic manner in connection with actual sets of facts. In this way alone can the student be made to realize from the start that the law is a living thing, and not a dead, mechanical set of rules.

5. The case system gives the student, to a degree that no other system does, the power to apply the law to various sets of facts—a power which constitutes the very essence of a true lawyer.

Although the aim of the School is to train its students so that they may be qualified to practice law in any common law jurisdiction, especial care is taken throughout the course to indicate in each subject the peculiarities of the law of New York. Particular attention is called to the following courses, which have special bearing on the New York law:

1. COMMON LAW AND CODE PLEADING.—In this course the principles of common law and code pleading are taught, and the chief similarities and differences between the common law pleading and the code pleading (which is in force in New York) are fully explained.

2. NEW YORK CIVIL PRACTICE.—This course embraces a thorough study of the New York Civil Practice Act, as well as practical work in the drawings of pleadings and papers in civil actions and special proceedings.

A comprehensive course in Pure Jurisprudence is conducted, which deals with the fundamental ethical concepts, the general principles which form the basis of law, as well as its juridical and genetic origin.

It is believed that the courses of the School are so arranged as to unite a sound training in the fundamental principles of the law with a training in the practical application of these principles to actual legal work.

Courses in New Jersey Practice and Connecticut Practice respectively are given throughout the year. Either of these courses may be substituted for the New York Practice course by third year students; and, by arrangement with the Registrar, all students may take either of these courses specially, provided there be no conflict with regular courses.

COMMENCEMENT

The Annual Commencement of the University will be held at Fordham on Thursday, June 12, 1924.

ACADEMIC YEAR

The first half of the Academic Year 1924-1925 will begin on Thursday, September 25, 1924, and end Friday, January 30, 1925. The second half will begin on Monday, February 2, 1925, and end Tuesday, June 9, 1925. Classes will not be held on any legal holiday, the Friday following Thanksgiving Day, All Saints' Day (Nov. 1), Immaculate Conception (Dec. 8), and Ascension Day (May 21).

The Christmas Recess will begin after the close of lectures on Tuesday, December 23, 1924, and classes will be resumed on Friday, January 2, 1925; the Easter Recess will begin after lectures on Wednesday, April 8, 1925, and classes will be resumed on Tuesday, April 14, 1925.

Matriculation in course is not permitted in the second semester. Special students, however, may register for courses which are conducted during the second semester only.

The school does not conduct any courses during the summer.

STUDIES REQUIRED FOR DEGREE

Every candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Laws will be required to take all the subjects of the three years, except that third year students may elect any one of the three Practice Courses; to all other students these three courses are extra.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The School of Law is open to both sexes. Students will not be registered under abbreviated or colloquial forms of recognized names. The registered name of the student will be adhered to in all certificates and degrees of the school, except in cases of obvious error, or upon presentation of a certified copy of a Supreme Court order, permitting a change of name. Applicants for degrees must be at least eighteen years of age upon entering the first year course, must be of good moral character and must present:

1. A certificate of graduation from a University or College approved by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York; or,

2. (a) A law student's certificate issued by the Board of Regents at Albany to graduates of recognized high schools and to applicants passing Regents' examinations in subjects equivalent to courses in such high schools; and

(b) A certificate showing completion of one year of college work or its equivalent, in a College or University of standing satisfactory to the School of Law. Generally, thirty semester hours of college work or completion of a pre-law course entitling the candidate to credit equal thereto, will be required as the equivalent of one college year.

The Department of Education issues each year a booklet known as Handbook 27, which contains full information as to the institutions recognized by the Regents and the courses which will be accepted as high school equivalents. Copies may be obtained by application at the School.

Beginning with September, 1926, two years of college work or its equivalent will be required of students entering the first year class in course for a degree.

ADVANCED STANDING

Students complying with the foregoing requirements for admission to the school, who have, in addition, successfully pursued the study of law for at least one or two years, as the case may be, in a law school maintaining standards satisfactory to the School of Law, may, on submission of a proper certificate showing successful completion of such work, be admitted to advanced standing.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

A limited number of persons, having a law student's qualifying certificate issued by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York, but not otherwise qualified for admission as hereinabove set forth, will be accepted as special students, not candidates for a degree, on presenting such evidence as the school may require of their fitness to study law. Generally such students must be qualified by reason of age and other experience so as not to impede the work of the class. The admission of such students, however, is not encouraged.

Arrangements may be made also with students who desire to pursue specially one or more courses at regular lecture hours.

PRE-LAW COURSE

The University conducts on the same floor with the School of Law, a pre-law course deemed by us the equivalent of one year of college work. The hours of this equivalent course are 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. from Monday to Friday inclusive. The subjects embraced include the following: American History, Economics, English, Logic, Epistemology, General Ethics, Public Speaking, and one elective language course.

Candidates for this course must have or be entitled to a law student's qualifying certificate issued by the Board of Regents at Albany.

The fees for this course are as follows: The registration and University fee, Five Dollars each; tuition fee, One Hundred and Fifty Dollars; all payable on the same terms as the fees and tuition of the School of Law as hereinafter noted.

Applicants for registration may apply at Room 2866, Woolworth Building, New York.

EXAMINATIONS

Examination is held at the completion of each subject, as an essential part thereof: class room work, as far as practicable, is also a determinant of general standing. Excessive absences from lectures will bar the student from examination.

Examinations are conducted on every week day. Hours of examination will be from 4 p. m. to 7 p. m. for all classes, except that the Saturday examination hours will be from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Failed, or omitted, examinations aggregating more than two major courses will necessitate repetition of the full year. Notice of intention to repeat must be given by the student before August 25, so that a place may be reserved in the class room for the following year.

Failed, or omitted, examinations aggregating not more than two major courses may be retaken at the next conditional examinations in the week of Labor Day, and if then failed or omitted, necessitate repetition of the subject.

Special examinations will be held in all conditioned subjects, on the five days immediately following Labor Day.

All examinations once taken or offered at the end of the third year, whether in regular course, or to remove conditions, are conclusive in their results for that school year.

LAW LIBRARY

The library is now housed on the Broadway front of our quarters, with steady natural light by day, and the most modern system of shaded artificial light for evening work.

The location of the space, on the twenty-eighth floor, looking east, with an unbroken view for many miles, and with quiet assured by the height above the street and the solid walls separating the library from the other rooms, all contribute to its attractiveness.

The library is open throughout the year to the students of the School of Law and its alumni after 9.30 a. m.

PRIZES

In each class the student attaining the highest average in recitations and examinations will be awarded a prize of fifty dollars ($50.00) in gold.

The Central Book Company's prize of "Bouvier's Law Dictionary," is awarded to the student of each year having the highest general average in class work.

ADMISSION TO THE NEW YORK BAR

The New York State Bar examinations are open at once to all graduates of this school who are citizens of the United States and for six months actual residents of this State.

Successful bar examination candidates who hold an academic degree of a recognized college, are entitled to license to practice in this State, upon satisfying the requirements of the Character Committee. All successful bar examination candidates who do not hold such academic degree, must, before being licensed to practice, furnish proof to the Character Committee, of fulfillment of the further requirement of a calendar year of clerkship in the office of a practicing attorney.

FEES

The following fees are payable: upon registration, a matriculation fee of Five Dollars.

For tuition, One Hundred and Eighty Dollars per annum, payable one-half on entrance, and the balance on February 1 following.

A University fee of Five Dollars, payable by all students at the beginning of every academic year.

A graduation fee of Fifteen Dollars, payable before completion of final examinations.

A conditioned examination fee of Five Dollars for every failed or omitted examination taken.

No degree is granted or certificate of attendance issued to any student who has not paid all fees due from him to the School, and no student of any class will be permitted to attend recitations or examinations who is in default more than two weeks in the payment of any such fee.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

The School does not maintain a boarding department, but information as to where board and rooms can be obtained will be furnished on application.

HOURS OF INSTRUCTION

CLASSES FROM MONDAY TO FRIDAY, INCLUSIVE

The School of Law now has three divisions; the morning division, the afternoon division, and the evening division; the work of all divisions is identical.

Once registered in a given division of the School, a student may not transfer, at any time, to any other division.

MORNING SCHOOL.—Classes will be held on every week-day, except Saturday, commencing at 9.30 a. m.

AFTERNOON SCHOOL.—Classes will be held on every week-day, except Saturday, commencing at 1.30 o'clock p. m.

EVENING SCHOOL.—Classes will be held in the evening of every week-day except Saturday, commencing at 6 o'clock p. m.

Class hours are subject to change at the discretion of the faculty.

For the order of lectures in all divisions of the School, the schedule may be consulted.

The School quarters are open to students on Saturdays.

CLASS IN PUBLIC SPEAKING

Professor Carmody has instituted, under the auspices of the Law School, but not as part of the official curriculum, a class in Public Speaking, limited to not more than twenty-five members; preference is at present given to third year students.

Class hours are ordinarily on Saturday afternoon, and the syllabus of work is the following: "Effective arrangement and delivery of arguments before courts and addresses to juries. Auditory analysis and logical sequence compared and correlated. Voice diagnosis and training."

In order to afford opportunity to as many as possible of the third year students, the class in Public Speaking will be completed in the first semester and repeated in the second.
